

It's No Child's Play

When my tax dollars are used to condone civil disobedience in the guise of a youth-oriented newspaper, it's time to call foul play.

The March-April edition of the "Queen City Special" not only has an editorial espousing civil disobedience, it also addresses the school prayer issue in an editorial, concluding that President Reagan is "disrupting the country with his reactionary reasoning."

If we are to be subjected, at our expense, to political propaganda via a newspaper published by the city, consider the consequences of having a city-owned cable TV system.

Wake up Burlington. The "Queen City Special" is no "child's play."
